JOHN F. VELOCK, 25, CORNWELLS HTS., SECOND PEDESTRIAN TO BE FATALLY KILLED IN THIS AREA IN PAST FOUR DAYS

Young Man Struck by Car Operated by Robert E. Fearheller, Philadelphia, at Croydon, Early This Morning — Death Instantaneous — Funeral is Arranged for Wednesday.

CROYDON, Nov. 30 — The second fatality of its kind within four days in this area—that of a pedestrian killed when struck by a motor vehicle—occurred this morning at two o'clock on Bristol Pike just east of the Shammy Creek bridge.

The victim is: John Francis Velock, 25, of School Lane and Ogden Avenue, Cornwells Heights.

Velock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Velock, of the same address, was struck as he was either walking or crossing Bristol Pike early in the morning. The driver of the car was unable to give any information as to how the fatal accident occurred, according to state police of Langhorne barracks, and there were no eye-witnesses.

The young man was killed instantly, he suffering a broken neck, multiple fractures, and internal injuries. He had been dragged for a distance by the car striking him, it is said.

The driver of the machine, Robert Fearheller, of 1658 Hawthorn Street, Philadelphia, was traveling west on Route 13. Fearheller was not at the time, and was not indicted, state police say. He is being held on a charge of involuntary manslaughter. Bucks County Coroner J. Alfred Rigby, Cornwells Heights, was called to view the body.

Velock, who was single, moved to Cornwells Heights three years ago in Mahanoy City. In addition to his parents he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Whitehead, Cornwells Heights; and Mrs. Helen Shamy, of Burholme.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

In Reverse

AS A RULE when the politicians tend to behave recklessly with the public funds it is the business men of the country who protest, warn and counsel restraint. Therefore, it is somewhat startling when business men reverse this procedure and urge action which appears more reckless and less sound than that proposed by the politicians.

YET, that seems exactly what the United States Chamber of Commerce has done in its report made public on Monday. A week or so ago the Republican House Steering Committee promised a personal income-tax reduction of 20 percent in the coming session. But thoughtful Republican senators, such as Senators Taft, Capper, Bridges and others, have declined to endorse this idea on the ground that a balanced budget and some step toward tax reduction must come first; that to rush in and slice taxes right off the hat would be highly irresponsible Federal finance, almost certain to invite disaster.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All in The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

For a little while it looked as if Clifford Wood, 37, colored chef, of New Hope, would be vacationing in the Bucks County Prison for 84 days after pleading guilty to violation of two game laws before Justice of the Peace William Wrigley, Edison.

Wood, who is a chef at the River House, on November 29 shot a rabbit while sitting in a truck in a field in Solebury township. In addition to that violation of the game code, the defendant was not displaying his hunting license.

Three witnesses, all of whom appeared in the office of the Justice of the Peace Wrigley, Monday, testified they saw Wood shoot a rabbit.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Senator Knowland of California, called upon President Truman to take the coal strike directly to the miners and to the public and not wait out the inevitable legal delays. Edward R. Burke, head of the Southern Coal Producers' Association, called his board into a meeting Monday despite the objection of some of the directors to his proposal for a resumption of direct negotiations.

The miners, meanwhile, drew their last full-period pay checks and settled down rather grimly. In some other fields, a relaxation rather than a tightening of controls was conspicuous. President Truman accepted the resignation of Paul A. Porter as head of the Office of Price Administration after the latter had indicated that he regarded his work as virtually completed. At the same time there was a substantial modification of the restrictions on the domestic use of grain, attributed to favorable supplies, while the Department of Commerce announced that export control had been lifted from more than fifty additional items.

Much of the previous atmosphere of optimism about agreement over steps to disarmament was rudely shattered in the Political Committee of the General Assembly of the United Nations when a Soviet delegate, Andrei V. Vishinsky, served notice that the Soviet Union had no intention of compromising the veto power in respect to any inspection agencies that were set up.

Word was received from Berlin, however, that Soviet demobilization and partial replacement in the Russian zone of Germany had been proceeding at an unprecedented rate, suggesting some confusion in orders.

There was a move in the opposite direction in Argentina. There the Chamber of Deputies adopted a sweeping conscription law that would place all Argentinians, male and female, from 12 to 50, in peacetime military service at the discretion of the President, with two years of service in the armed forces for all males.

The Security Council made progress. It was decided to re-examine membership applications. France and Siam announced that they had composed their differences, Siam re-submitted her application for membership and France supported it.

An Assembly subcommittee, however, rejected South Africa's proposal to annex South-West Africa. In Jerusalem, the Supreme Court refused a habeas corpus petition to

WHAT'S PEACE WORTH?

Customarily, people think of war in terms of human value; lives dislocated, lost, warped. Any peace program which offers hope of preventing such mass and universal tragedy as world-war is worth while.

But in the United States today, one can also put a dollar-and-cents valuation on peace.

Let's state it this way: WHATEVER MAN, OR WHATEVER PARTY, IS ABLE TO WORK OUT A PRACTICAL PEACE PROGRAM FOR THE WORLD WILL THEREBY SAVE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE AT LEAST A BILLION DOLLARS A MONTH IN COLD CASH.

The arithmetic is quite simple. Because the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's "great experiment" of trusting to Russia's good intentions fizzled out in failure, President Truman now insists on spending $16 billions or more a year for military purposes.

If the world were on normally good terms, nation with nation, the most anyone would consider spending on American armaments would be $4 billions a year. Even that is about twice what we were spending before the recent war started—and never forget that, although theoretically "unprepared," the United States has almost lone-handed won two world wars in succession.

The difference between $16 billions and $4 billions a year is $12 billions—a billion a month.

That's the financial value of a workable peace program to the American people.

A billion dollars is a lot of money. Public speakers have been rattling off the word so glibly and so long that most of us have forgotten how much work it takes to produce that amount.

Let's try to visualize a billion this way: Everyone has run across the cosmetics business in some fashion. Turn on the radio and you hear someone preaching about vanishing cream, or special soaps, or some other of the innumerable methods by which America's beautiful women (that's all of them) improve on the work of nature.

THOUSANDS OF ITEMS

Shoppers by the hundreds are doing their Christmas buying in Bristol—saving themselves time, crushing crowds, money. They are receiving full value for their money, quick and courteous service.

For some the gift choice is something practical, for others pleasure-giving items, or those in the luxury class. But all are finding a wealth of goods to choose from. Bristol merchants having stocked their stores well.

Although store windows are not lighted these evenings, due to the "brownout" called in an attempt to conserve electricity during the coal crisis, shopping has not been retarded. The interior of the stores are brightly illuminated and the gift seekers find ample and attractive lighting as they look over the countless suggestions.

For the holiday pleasures Smith Model Shop, 412-14 Mill Street, is offering "heart-winning" gifts designed for a round of holiday dances. And the colors—black, white and heavenly pastels.

For the top Paroly's Wearing Apparel Shop, 304 Mill Street, suggests heavy-knit sleepers with feet. The "with feet" implies there will be warm sleep ahead for the little girl or boy receiving such a gift.

For that "gift for the house," Auto Boys, 408-10 Mill Street, is advertising heavy steel utility tables, cut to less than half in price. With a center divided drawer and utility shelf they are white enameled, and have 16x20 inch tops.

STRANGE DIVIDEND

It would not be surprising if nutritionists of the Department of Agriculture are proved right in their belief that the better eating habits Americans acquired during wartime will carry over into the years of peace. It happened so after World War I and there is good reason why it should happen again.

To some it may come as a new idea that Americans did acquire better eating habits while the nation was at war. And the statement does seem paradoxical at first glance. But the nutritionists explain that rationing and price fixing made it possible for more people to get more nourishing foods, such as milk, leafy green and yellow vegetables, and fruit and tomato juices. And they have records to prove that the opportunity was not wasted.

There were other factors in the equation. High wartime incomes had a good deal to do with the improvement in the national diet. Then, too, other goods that normally tempt consumers' dollars were in short supply. It seems likely also that the occasional stringencies in certain foods, such as meat, compelled housewives to seek suitable substitutes. In general people were more diet-conscious than they are in times of abundance.

So it is easy to believe that Americans know more about nutrition now than they did before the war and that they will continue to turn their knowledge to good advantage. Perhaps they will spend less freely when prices are high or when incomes drop but they will spend more wisely to get the minerals and vitamins they now know are essential to good health.

BRAIN POWER

Science has definitely proved that dinosaurs ruled the earth for 140,000,000 years. Specimens discovered weighed up to 40 tons, and are known to have dominated all other living creatures. What puzzles the scientists is how they got away with it in view of the fact they were big but dumb. Their brains never weighed more than a few ounces, in contrast with a 150-pound man whose brain weighs three pounds.

Man, with his superior brain power, has been around a little more than one million years. It is true he has advanced to a state greatly improved over that of the dinosaur. He is dominant but still has a long way to go to equal the length of existence established by his predecessor.

Scientists are at a loss to explain this disparity. It could mean that as living creatures grew wiser they became weaker. Man's allotted three score and ten years may be more desirable than the centuries the dinosaurs held forth. But in the contrast there is proof long life does not depend upon brain capacity. In fact, the opposite seems to be true.

Republicans in Congress say they will get along nicely with the President if he doesn't adopt the Russian technique in using the veto.

WHAT'S PEACE WORTH?

There are beauty shops everywhere. Some famous trade names are universally known. The ramifications of the business seem almost endless.

Yet vast and universal as the cosmetics industry is, it is merely a one-billion-dollar industry.

Twelve billions would support twelve industries as extensive as the beauty business.

Perhaps other figures will help show what a vast sum is involved. Great Britain asked us for a 50-year loan to put her back on her feet after the war; it was only a third as much as $12 billions.

Before the war, for many years, the entire United States government spent only $4 billions annually.

Brushing aside currency juggling, normal earnings in this nation ran about $60 billions a year. Twelve billions would be 20 per cent, or a fifth, of our normal total earnings.

Figuring it out on a per capita basis, we find that $12 billions a year means $85 a year for every American man, woman and child. That's $425 a year for every family of five.

Would you enjoy, in your own household, having that amount rebated from the direct and hidden taxes you are paying?

The sum is one third of the present total Federal tax collections, estimated to be about $36 billions a year.

Would you like a one-third slash, at a single step, in your tax bill?

The moment a workable peace plan is perfected, such a cut can be made forthwith.

In the field of economics, there are still more pressing considerations. By no stretch of the imagination can this nation, under existing standards of living, support $12 billions a year for military purposes—which are a drag on our economy, economically non-productive—without running straight down hill into bankruptcy.

There is a limit to taxation. Taxes have to come out of profits. If taxes rise too high, there is no leeway for profits—not only management's profits, which are necessary in free economy, but for labor's profits, or wages, which are certainly imperative everywhere.

Added to other essential and unavoidable expenses of government, including debt-carrying charges, the $12 billions a year military expenses carry government spending beyond the limit where it can be supported.

This is just another way of stating the proposition that a few years of "peace" on its present terms will be quite as disastrous to the American nation as a defeat in war—and a whole lot more certain.

Where does all this add up?

It means that there is being generated in the United States that most powerful of mass movements, an economic pressure, for the overhauling of our peace program.

That the Republican Party, in the long run, will have to be the agency for this purpose is unmistakable.

We must—we have no choice—find a new approach; one which will be so eminently fair and just, in contrast to the past methods, that no nation, small or large, will want to upset it.

The immorality of all our foreign-policy steps taken to date has been so outrageous that it is small wonder peace continues to be a shimmering, elusive unreality.

We have sold out virtually every foreign race that relied upon the good word and good faith of the American people in such recitals as that of the Atlantic Charter.

No wonder no one wants to trust us! No wonder the Russians, looking back over our broken promises to lesser peoples like the Finns and the Poles, refuses to consider making new agreements with us which she has the best of reasons to fear we wouldn't try to keep "in a pinch."

Looked at from the broad point of view, an overhauling and revision of our approach to world peace is as inevitable as the coming of winter.

Moral and economic forces, beyond human control, unite in requiring it.

The Great Game of Politics

SUCH is the emphatic view, too, of most of the really competent economists in the country, notably among whom is Mr. H. M. Haruch, who right after the war in vain cautioned his own party against a tax reduction which increased inflationary pressure, pointing out that the safe and sensible thing was to balance the budget and reduce the debt in a period of prosperity when people had the money to pay taxes and no hardship was imposed. Nevertheless, here is the Chamber of Commerce urging not a 20 per cent reduction in the individual income tax but a 25 per cent reduction. In addition, it calls for further reductions in corporation taxes, in the estate and gift taxes, in the capital gains tax, of all war excess taxes, of the tax on property transportation and levies of the "nuisance" type, and the elimination of "double taxation" on corporation earnings and dividends.

IN brief, here is one of the great business organizations of the nation recommending a program of tax reduction far greater than any proposed by the practical politicians—a program that will add to the dangers of inflation and make all talk of balancing the budget and reducing the debt hollow and hypocritical. The estimate is that the Chamber of Commerce reductions would curtail the Federal revenue approximately two billion dollars. Had such a proposition been made by the politicians, one would expect business men everywhere to howl that they were about to ruin the country, to denounce the idea as purely political and give their loins to oppose its passage.

AND one would have expected the loudest howl and the strongest denunciation to come from the Chamber of Commerce. That the Chamber of Commerce should sponsor and promote so drastic a cut in tax revenue is well calculated to leave the average man aghast. It is true the Chamber refers to a balanced budget as vital but it makes no pretense of knowing how a balance can be achieved after a two-billion cut in revenue. It ignores almost completely the necessity of reducing the debt and also the fact that every informed man in both parties knows that the task of curtailing Federal expenditures so as to make income equal outgo is tremendous even with revenue rolling in at present tax rates.

LOOKING back now, nearly every competent person agrees that not only the Federal Treasury but the national economy as a whole would be vastly more wholesome if the 1945 tax reductions had not been made. Then, for political reasons, some 12,000,000 taxpayers in the lowest brackets were rendered exempt altogether and the excess profits tax was repealed altogether. If that had not been done, the budget would now be in balance and a start on debt reduction would have been made. Then an orderly and gradual reduction in tax rates would have been easy.

NOW, if there is to be an approximation of a balanced budget, which the Chamber of Commerce says is vital, even the 20 per cent reduction proposed by the House Republicans is clearly unwise. But a reduction all along the line to the extent of two billion dollars is worse than that. To have that proposal come from the United States Chamber of Commerce seems incredible. That is the last source one would have suspected. It used to be the New Dealers who thought balanced budgets unhealthy and the size of the national debt unimportant because "we owe it to ourselves." This Chamber of Commerce proposal makes one wonder whether the gentlemen who run it have become converted to that silly doctrine. The prospect that the politicians, whom the business men are supposed to restrain from going to extremes, should now have to restrain the business men is not without humor.

For stealing clothing, valued at more than $150, and a record playing machine from two fellow Pennsylvania railroad workers, Cary Merritt, 36, who pleaded guilty to larceny in court here Tuesday afternoon, was sentenced by Judge William H. Keller to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $1, restore the value of the clothing taken and serve not less than one year nor more than five in the Eastern State penitentiary.

The defendant, who said he was drunk at the time, robbed Reginald Fisher and Felix Felder by breaking into their lockers at Camp No. 1, Falls township, near Morrisville, November 13.

The railroad track worker, who said his home is at Wondel, N. C., testified he bought Fisher's bag from another worker in the camp, but at he was unable to give the man's name.

Charles F. Broad, Lansdale, who pleaded guilty to operating his car without a driver's license, was given suspended prison sentence and placed on probation. and her Dutch cap featured a beautiful design. Calla lilies formed a arm bouquet.

Miss Viola DiPietra, Schumacher drive, sister of the groom, was the maid of honor; with the Misses Rose and Christine Caucci, 826 Fourth avenue, and Johnstown, respectively, sisters of the bride, as bridesmaids. Their gowns were of white, the bodices being of champagne, and full skirts of hunter green. Their head-pieces were champagne-toned carnations intertwined with hunter green ribbon; and they wore mits of champagne and slippers of gold tone. The trio carried champagne carnations.

The best man was Mr. Joseph Braccio, Langhorne; and ushers, Mr. Dominic Trombino, Dorrance street, and Mr. Michael Garamella, Franklin street.

The wedding breakfast was served to the bride party at 826 Fourth avenue; with a dinner planned at 7:30 at Roman Hall, Trenton, N. J., for 14 guests; and a small evening reception in Sons of Italy Hall.

For a two weeks motor trip to Florida the bride has selected a two-piece dress with black wool jersey bodice and pink wool skirt; short black cloth coat, black kid slippers and gloves, black felt hat, and gardenia corsage. The DiPietras will make their home in an apartment at 929 Mansion street.

The former Miss Caucci presented her attendants with sterling silver bracelets; and the groom gave his attendants tie pins and key chain sets.

To Dye or Not To Dye?—Better Experiment With Tints First

An expert professional job of hair-tinting can be very effective.

By HELEN FOLLETT
HAIR-TINTING, by means of rinses after the shampoo, has become a popular diversion. The effect is not permanent, so you aren't in for trouble. If you don't like it, then you don't need to have it done any more. A certain amount of dyeing goes on but not to such an extent as in the period when henna was the rage.

The platinum blonde was in the spotlight for a number of years. She has been succeeded by the Titian blonde, mainly for the reason that the white gold effect was produced by over bleaching, and over bleaching has a deplorable effect upon the hair shafts, causing them to become dry and brittle, to break at the touch of the comb. The new Titian is more effective, has more character, is becoming to more types of women.

Dyeing and Bleaching

Dyeing and bleaching are not the simple little beauty chores that some girls fancy. Some beauty shops refuse to do either because the cash customer may visualize herself as a potential ravine beauty but the preste change act may make her look worse and not better, as she had hoped. Then there are loud lamentations.

It is not easy to restore the pristine color. There are dye removers, but they do not work on all coloring agents. If you are thinking of assuming a new role, transposing yourself from brunette to blonde, give the matter plenty of thought and follow the advice of an expert.

It is the woman with the first white threads in her halo who flirts with the idea of dyeing her hair. If she will wait awhile until more strands go white, she may, like herself as a grey lady. Anyhow, why hurry?

It is possible to touch up a few tresses, but the problem is to find the best medium and the matching tone. It is safer to make a test: Tie a thread around a small strand, apply the dye, wait several days, then compare the treated strand to the natural shade. If the whole head is to be dyed, only an experienced colorist is qualified to take the risk.

About midnight on Monday a friend, contacted Wrigley and the defendant was released from prison.

State Police at the Doylestown sub-station sent out a teletype description of Nye Miller, 65, of Upper Black Eddy, R. D. 1, who has been missing from his home since November 15.

Boy Scouts from Frenchtown and 20 members of the Frenchtown Junior High school class this week assisted police in a search of the wooded countryside near Miller's home and along the Delaware River canal.

Miller lives at the home of Charles Wedelutts, and is employed as a laborer by William Hittmester, No. 2 Race street, Frenchtown, N. J.

According to State Police, Miller left his place of employment about 1:15 on the afternoon of Nov. 15, complaining that he did not feel well. He was last seen about 5:30 that day at Uhlertown.

Miller was wearing blue overalls and a blue jumper. He is about 5 feet, one inch tall and weighs about 200 pounds.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

WHAT to do with the left-overs after a large meal is a problem that faces everyone at one time or another. This can be solved in a variety of ways, the most common of which is the serving of cold meats and fowl, or by making a hash. These two uses of yesterday's dinner are not always acceptable during the cold months ahead. However, there are ways of creating a tasty dish from what remains in the icebox.

The A & P Service for Home-Makers suggests that turkey, chicken or veal terrazini will make a welcome change on the second day menu. Season a white sauce with celery salt, bring to a boil and add one cup of cooked turkey, chicken or veal, one-half cup of cooked spaghetti and one-half cup of sliced mushrooms that have been sautéed in butter. Butter a large baking dish and fill with the mixture, sprinkle with a third of a cup of grated parmesan cheese and three-quarters of a cup of buttered cracker crumbs and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) until the cracker crumbs are brown. Either of the three meats above or the left-over lamb could be whipped into a curry if a high seasoning is desired. Beef cutlets can be used for a change when a bit of the roast is still to be consumed. Remove the fat and grate from cooked beef and cut into cubes. Sauté the cubes slowly in butter for five minutes, then mix with a white sauce, season with salt, pepper and a dash of mace or powdered thyme and add a little onion juice. Shape, crumb and fry; the result can be served with either a tomato or creole sauce.

If you have some string beans left over after a big dinner, warm them in a sauce pan with a can of corn and a dash of White House evaporated milk.

For dinner try a cup of tomato soup followed by beef cutlets with home-fried potatoes, and a combination of string beans and corn. Complete the meal with some stewed peaches and a beverage.

Report Some Departments Vacated at Fleetwings

A report about town that Fleetwings Plant No. 2 was being vacated could not be officially confirmed today. No authorized spokesman would either confirm or deny the rumor.

The report was that Plant No. 2 is being vacated and that the Budd Company of Philadelphia has purchased it. Several weeks ago when this report was submitted to the Public Relations Department of the Budd Company it was officially denied.

It was unofficially stated that some of the departments in Plant No. 2 were being moved, and another statement was that an "internal rearrangement" was in progress.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Samuel Gaskell
Pastor, Tullytown,
Emile and Fallington
Methodist Churches

O God, the Almighty and All-loving One, to Thee we come, trusting in Thy love and power for our salvation. We are surrounded by hopelessness and helplessness; yet Thou didst bring order out of the primeval chaos; and Thy hand still hath its ancient power. For Jesus' sake, blot out our transgressions, forgive our iniquities, and save us from our self-inflicted ills. In the long ago, men trusted in horses and chariots; we today in atom bombs. These may save us from our enemies, but not from ourselves; our sins and our selfishness. These are the evils that are bringing us to the abyss. Help us to turn from our idols to serve Thee, the true, loving, and living God. In Jesus' Name we plead. Amen.

ST. ANN'S XI TO MEET BRIDESBURG IN NIGHT-CAP GAME.

Local Winners of Northeast Conference to Play in Philadelphia.

WILL START AT 2.30

Bridesburg Has A Record of Six Wins and One Defeat

St. Ann's A. A., winners of the western division of the Northeast Football Conference, will meet Bridesburg A. A., of the eastern division, tomorrow afternoon, in the nightcap of a double-header at the Cambria Stadium, Kensington and Torresdale avenues.

In the first tilt, Tacony Boys Club, champions of the eastern division, meets Olney Vets, second place eleven of the western section of the conference. The first game gets under way at 12.30 o'clock and with 12 and 15 minutes quarters, the St. Ann's tilt should get started between two and two-thirty.

Bridesburg's conference record is six wins and one defeat while the Saints won six and tied one. Incidentally, Bridesburg was the only team in either section of the conference to beat the Olney Vets, it administering a 26-0 defeat on the Olney team. Olney held St. Ann's to a scoreless tie several weeks ago.

The Bridesburg team is coached by Joe Neuman, former Frankford High star. The eleven has four Luckawacze brothers playing on its squad and has a very fast backfield. Some of the spectators saw the Bridesburg team meet Paradise in a previous double-header and feel that the Bridesburg backfield will be the only one to make a dent in the strong St. Ann's line.

But despite the record of the Bridesburg boys the undefeated St. Ann's team is determined to be in the final playoffs and is confident of beating Bridesburg and annex its tenth win of the season. The Purple and Gold has been beaten twice.

Coach "Pete" Bornice drilled his proteges three times this week and pointed out some of the faults in the Burlington game. Coach Bornice feels that his club is the best in the Northeast Conference and that only the "breaks" can beat it. Bornice has his entire line-up in tip-top shape. Last Sunday, he did not use "Carm" Gullatto in order to rest him for the playoffs. Gullatto has been a mainstay in the line all season and when not in there his absence is felt. Gullatto was injured in the Morrisville game but feels in shape after his week's rest. Massi also rested out the Burlington tilt.

The starting lineup for St. Ann's will most likely be: Ends, Denny and Mankiaracina; tackles, Gullatto and Mount; guards, Sak and Profy; center, Rue; quarterback, Banroth; halfbacks, Schreiner and DeMilio; fullback, Spencer.

RAMBLERS TO PLAY JERSEY CITY TOMORROW

Still seeking their first victory over the boys from Jersey City, the Bristol Ramblers will tangle with them again for the second time this Sunday.

The improved Rambler squad battled the Grey Hounds five weeks ago at Jersey City and were defeated 4-6.

The local squad has played its best hockey in the last two games and is definitely on the up-climb. The addition of Carl Lettsch of Philadelphia whom coach Pop Keene picked up a few weeks ago, has given an added spark to the club.

John Ritter, Bristol's defenseman, who kept hockey fans pleased with his "flying tackle" checking tactics while in Rex's uniform a few years back, will be back on the floor after missing the last two games as a result of a few head injuries. He will team with Bill Sottung in one of the defense set-ups.

The Ramblers have been playing good hard hockey and are expecting another big crowd this week. Coach Keene wishes to have all players on hand at Jamison to be ready to play at 5 p. m.

BUDGET HELPERS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Although more meat is available today, Mrs. Housewife can continue to make good use of the meats she relied on during the period of scarcity. There are a number of these which offer many opportunities for variety and at the same time are easy on the budget.

The meats pictured above are excellent examples. Most housewives include them in their family meals, but more often than not the ways in which they are served are very limited.

As a matter of fact there are almost endless possibilities for using these meats in preparing dishes that are different. A few suggestions are given here.

Meat Cups — Creamed Potatoes
Combine 1 pound ground beef, 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Line ungreased muffin pans with meat mixture to a thickness of 3/4-inch. Fill with creamed potatoes and bake in a slow oven 45 minutes.

Meat and Potato Roll
Combine 1 1/2 pounds ground meat, 3/4 cup cracker crumbs, 1 egg, 3/4 cup milk and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Spread on waxed paper to 1/2-inch thickness, making a rectangle about 6 x 10 inches. Spread with 2 cups mashed potatoes (use sweet potatoes if meat is pork). Roll like a jelly roll. Place in roasting pan and bake 1 1/2 hours in a moderate oven.

Meat-Potatoburgers
Combine 1 pound hamburger, 2 cups coarsely grated unpeeled potato, 1/4 cup grated onion, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Mix well. Shape into 8 patties and broil or panbroil slowly until done.

Liver Chop Suey
Cut 1 pound liver in 1" x 3/4" strips. Cook in 4 tablespoons lard or drippings 5 minutes. Add 1 cup sliced celery, 1 cup sliced onions. Cook 5 minutes. Add 1 can Chinese vegetables and liquid and 4 teaspoons soy sauce. Simmer until meat is thoroughly cooked, about 1/2 hour. Season, thicken. Serve over hot rice.

Liver Spoon Cakes
Cook 1 pound sliced liver in 1 tablespoon drippings in frying pan about 5 minutes. Grind liver; add 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, and 2 eggs, well beaten. Mix well. Drop by tablespoonfuls into hot shallow lard or drippings. Brown well on both sides.

Liver Loaf
Cook 1 1/2 pounds sliced liver in 2 tablespoons drippings 5 minutes. Grind liver. Combine with 1 cup bread crumbs, 1/4 cup milk, juice of 1/2 lemon, 2 tablespoons tomato catsup, 1/2 cup pork sausage, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1 small onion, finely chopped, 1 egg, beaten, 1 teaspoon salt, and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Mix well. Turn into a loaf pan lined with bacon. Place bacon strips on top. Bake in moderate oven, 1 hour.

Frankfurter Spaghetti
Slice 1 pound frankfurters in 1/2-inch pieces. Brown frankfurters and 1 cup dried onion in 1 tablespoon lard or drippings. Add 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon allspice, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 1/2 cups tomato juice and 3 cups cooked spaghetti. Simmer until thickened. Brown 1/2 pound whole frankfurters. Serve around spaghetti.

Frankfurter — Green Bean Casserole
Slice 1 pound frankfurters, 1/2-inch thick. Brown in 3 tablespoons drippings. Stir 5 tablespoons flour into drippings, add 2 cups milk and 1 teaspoon salt. Cook until thickened. Add 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 cup grated cheese and 2 cups green beans. Combine with frankfurters. Bake in moderate oven 40 minutes.

Barbecued Frankfurters
Arrange 1 1/2 pounds frankfurters in shallow pan. Pour Barbecue Sauce over them. Bake uncovered for 30 minutes in a moderate oven. To make Barbecue Sauce: Brown 1 medium onion, chopped, in 2 tablespoons margarine or butter. Add 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 4 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup catsup, 3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup chopped celery, salt and red pepper. Simmer 30 minutes.

EAGLES READY TO PLAY WOLVERINES

The Third Ward Eagles will play the Frankford Wolverines tomorrow afternoon on their home field at South Bristol, formerly known as Sullivan's field. Opening kickoff is scheduled for 2:15 o'clock.

The Eagles were originally scheduled to meet the Kensington Cards of the Northeast Conference, but Thursday night the Cards called off the tilt, claiming they have too many players on the injured list. Manager Bob Hughes immediately filled in with the Frankford team, a high-ranking outfit in Pop Warner's Conference.

The Third Ward team gained a "moral" victory over the Langhorne Aces last Sunday. Picked to lose by three or four touchdowns, the Bristol boys surprised the fans by holding the Aces to a 12-7 score.

Coach Joe Roe's team has been strengthened by adding Joe Elmer, former Bristol High star, to the backfield. Recently discharged from the Navy, Elmer played his first tilt against Langhorne and although unfamiliar with the complete set of plays, gave a fine account of himself.

It is most likely that Coach Roe will use the following in his starting lineup: Ends, Ellis and Elmon; tackles, Wade and Steinbrun; guards, Daugherty and Brady; center, Reidel; quarterback, Rodgers; halfbacks, Marger and Capriotti; fullback, Carter.
